Thame Barns Centre

Thame Barns Centre is a conversion of old farm barns and was brought about through an initiative between Thame Town Council and St Mary's Church. It is situated in the Conservation area next to The Old Grammar School and opposite the Tithe Barn which is one of the few surviving Tithe Barns still in existence next to its original Church – St. Marys.

On weekdays and evenings there are regular user groups, day centres and business meetings and at weekends the Centre hosts Wedding Receptions, Anniversary Parties, Birthday Parties and other special occasions.

The Town Council in partnership with the Diocesan Trustees (Oxford) and The Church Council of St Mary's own the buildings which are leased to the Barns Centre.

Citizens' Advice (CA)

The Citizens' Advice is located in Market House in North Street and aims to provide the advice people need for the problems they face and improve the policies and practices that affect people's lives. The service provides free, independent, confidential and impartial advice to everyone on their rights and responsibilities. It values diversity, promotes equality and challenges discrimination.

National Association of Local Councils (NALC) / The Oxfordshire Association of Local Councils (OALC)

The Oxfordshire Association of Local Councils is part of a national network and has been representing Town & Parish Councils, and Parish Meetings for over sixty years. It provides advice and information, and training for Councillors and Clerks and represents local council interests through partnerships with other local and regional agencies in the public, private and voluntary sectors.

There are 249 Town and Parish Councils and 68 Parish Meetings in Oxfordshire. These range in size from less than 100 to over 30,000 electors. The larger town and parish councils include Abingdon, Banbury, Bicester, Blackbird Leys, Didcot, Faringdon, Grove, Henley, Kidlington, Thame, Wallingford, Wantage and Witney.

OALC is affiliated to the National Association of Local Councils for specialist advice.

NALC is the only national body specialising in the work of local councils. It takes an enthusiastic role in protecting and advancing the rights and interests of member councils in the Government, main political opposition parties, Parliament, in media, private, charity and other parts of the public sector.

95% of all town and parish councils in England are NALC members representing the interests of 9,000 parish and town councils and 80,000 councillors. NALC provide support and advice to members directly through a network of County Associations and is run on a democratic structure with all important decisions about how it operates made through National Council and standing committees.

Individual town and parish councils are members of their local County Association and the National Association. Each County Association appoints one representative from their member councils to sit on National Council. The representative must be an elected councillor. Each National Council representative is responsible for ensuring the views of councils in their county area are voiced, and decisions made at national council are communicated back via their county association structure.

Thame Business Forum

A group of business leaders from local companies based mainly on the industrial estates around the town meet to discuss their future needs. The group meet every other month with each business taking it in turn to host the meeting. Topics that have been discussed to date have included issues with Broadband, apprenticeships, commercial waste and recycling.

21st Century Thame Partnership

21st Century Thame is a Town Partnership set up to facilitate projects which enhance the town for residents, businesses and visitors alike. Their aim is to enhance the town by protecting its past and promoting its future as a vibrant and flourishing centre serving the whole community. The Partnership provides a platform for partnerships and initiatives, brings businesses together, supports technology such as wi-fi and is working to improve cycleways, signage and traffic in the town centre.
