How to grow your bee-friendly wildflower seeds:

Bees love wildflowers because they're rich in pollen & nectar. This packet contains a pollinator-friendly mix of seeds, whose colourful flowers will look gorgeous as well as attracting bees and butterflies.

Sow your wildflower seeds at any time of the year. Choose a sunny window box or spot in your garden and lightly rake them into the soil.

Wildflower seeds germinate with sunlight. Water in long dry spells, but these wildflowers don't need pampering. They're the bees' knees!
